News items

- New additions to our Digital library include: Pauline Perry (1990) Bulbinella -- a neglected garden plant?, Veld and Flora, December 1990 [7 November 2025]
- Graham Duncan visited the UK again in October 2025, during which his main purpose was to photograph Nerines in cultivation. Thanks to an invitation by SABG member Peter Kohn, Graham gave a talk entitled "Kirstenbosch, the most beautiful garden in Africa, and its collection of South African bulbs", in the Dorothy Fox Education Centre in Sheffield Botanical Gardens on October 14th, attended by about 100 people. The meeting was hosted by the Friends of the Botanical Gardens, Sheffield, of which Peter is currently Acting Chair. [15 October 2025]
- The SABG is 21 this year! The original announcement about the formation of the Group appeared on 4th April 2004 in "The African Garden" web site run by David Fenwick. Unfortunately the original site may no longer exist, but thanks to the excellent work by the people at the Internet Archive \(archive.org\) a preserved copy of the web site can be seen at The African Garden. [20 August 2025]
- The list of bulbs and seeds in the 2025 Bulb & Seed Exchange is available: requests from SABG members to reach Jon Evans by 30th August. [16 August 2025]
- A video of Graham Duncan's talk "Agapanthus, Lachenalia and a lifetime spent at Kirstenbosch Botanical Garden: 1979 - 2024" is available to SABG and NAAS members for viewing after the meeting. SABG members can email Richard for the link. [27 March 2025]
- The new Haemanthus book from Dee Snijman is available online at https://www.sanbi.org/wp-content/uploads/2025/02/2025_Strelitzia48.pdf [Jon Evans, 13 March]

The PBS List is an email discussion of bulbs, sponsored by the Pacific Bulb Society, for people around the world. Although bulbs (defined more broadly to include all geophytes) are the focus, we recognize that people who grow them probably grow other things too and will be talking about them from time to time. Everyone is welcome to take part, simply click on Subscribe [in the link on the right just below]. PBS List <https://www.pacificbulbsociety.org/list.php>
